

MANDATORY REPORTING (CHILD PROTECTION) POLICY & PROCEDURES

To be read in conjunction with the MPPS Child Safe Policy (and Child Safe Standard Five: Processes for Responding to and Reporting Suspected Child Abuse)

Rationale:

Moonee Ponds Primary School is committed to providing a safe and secure environment for all students staff, volunteers and parents.

School staff have a duty of care to protect and preserve the safety, health and wellbeing of children and young people in their care and staff must always act in the best interests of those children and young people. If a staff member has any concerns regarding the health, safety or wellbeing of a child or young person it is important to take immediate action.

Aim:

Moonee Ponds Primary School's Mandatory Reporting Policy & Procedures aim to reduce the risk of abuse occurring, and to ensure that a caring and appropriate response is taken should abuse occur.

The purpose of this policy is to:

- define the roles and responsibilities of school staff in protecting the safety and wellbeing of children and young people
- enable staff to identify the indicators of a child or young person who may be in need of protection
- enable staff to make a report of a child or young person who may in need of protection
- Enable staff to comply with reporting obligations under child protection law and criminal law and fulfil their duty of care.

Implementation:

1. Reporting child protection concerns
2. Reporting criminal child sexual abuse - failure to disclose offence
3. Duty of care
4. Protecting children from the risk of sexual abuse - failure to protect offence
5. Forming a 'reasonable belief'
6. Types of child abuse and indicators of harm
7. When to Report
8. Making a report
9. Potential Consequences of making a report
10. Staff Training

1. Reporting child protection concerns

Mandatory reporters, who believe on reasonable grounds that a child or young person is in need of protection from physical injury or sexual abuse, must report their concerns to Department of Human Services (DHS) Child Protection. This policy and procedures for reporting and responding to suspected child abuse applies to all staff involved in child-connected work in all school environments and outside of school hours.

All other school staff who believe on reasonable grounds that a child or young person is:

- Is in need of protection, should report their concerns to DHHS Child Protection or Victoria Police.
- Is displaying sexually abusive behaviours and is need of therapeutic treatment should report their concerns to DHHS Child Protection.

If staff have significant concerns for the wellbeing of a child or young person they should report their concerns to DHS Child Protection or Child FIRST. In cases where staff have concerns about a child or young person, they should also discuss their concerns with the principal or a member of the school leadership team.

2. Reporting criminal child sexual abuse - failure to disclose offence

Any staff member who forms a reasonable belief that a sexual offence has been committed in Victoria by an adult against a child under 16 must disclose that information to police. Failure to disclose the information to police is a criminal offence, except in limited circumstances such as where the information has already been reported to DHHS Child Protection.

The offence applies to all adults in Victoria, not just professionals who work with children. To read more information about the 'failure to disclose' offence, see: Department of Justice and Regulation – Failure to disclose offence:

<http://www.justice.vic.gov.au/home/safer+communities/protecting+children+and+families/failure+to+disclose+offence>

3. Duty of care

School staff have a duty of care to protect the safety, health and wellbeing of children in their care. If a staff member has concerns about the safety, health and wellbeing of children in their care they should take immediate action.

In the case of a child who may be in need of protection or therapeutic treatment, or where there are significant concerns about the wellbeing of a child, school staff can discharge this duty of care by taking action which includes the following:

- reporting their concerns to the DHHS Child Protection or another appropriate agency (as identified above)
- notifying the principal or a member of the school leadership team of their concerns and the reasons for those concerns.

4. Protecting children from the risk of sexual abuse - failure to protect offence

Any staff member in a position of authority, who becomes aware that an adult associated with their organisation (such as an employee, contractor, volunteer or visitor) poses a risk of sexual abuse to a child under the care, authority or supervision of the organisation, must take all reasonable steps to remove or reduce that risk. This may include, for example, removing the adult from child-related work pending investigation. If a staff member in a position of authority fails to take reasonable steps in these circumstances, this may amount to a criminal offence.

The offence applies only to adults in a position of authority within an organisation, including Principals, senior school staff, regional directors and other senior managers.

To read more information about the 'failure to protect offence', see: Department of Justice and Regulations – Failure to protect offence. Note: Department policies already require school staff to uphold a high standard of care in relation to child safety and wellbeing.

For more information about managing and responding to the risk of abuse see: Duty of care, Responding to Student Sexual Assault and Risk Management under Department resources below.

5. Forming a 'reasonable belief'

A 'reasonable belief' or a 'belief on reasonable grounds' is not the same as having proof but is more than mere rumour or speculation.

A 'reasonable belief' is formed if a reasonable person in the same position would have formed the belief on the same grounds. For example, a 'reasonable belief' might be formed if:

- a child states that they have been physically or sexually abused
- a child states that they know someone who has been physically or sexually abused (sometimes the child may be talking about themselves)
- someone who knows a child states that the child has been physically or sexually abused
- professional observations of the child's behaviour or development leads a professional to form a belief that the child has been physically or sexually abused or is likely to be abused
- signs of abuse lead to a belief that the child has been physically or sexually abused.

6. Types of child abuse and indicators of harm

Child abuse can have a significant effect on a child's physical or emotional health, development and wellbeing. Types of child abuse include:

- physical abuse
- sexual abuse
- emotional abuse
- neglect
- medical neglect
- family violence
- human trafficking (including forced marriage)
- sexual exploitation (including pornography and prostitution).

A report should be made to DHHS Child Protection in circumstances where, for example:

- the child is engaging in risk-taking behaviour
- female genital mutilation has occurred, or there is a risk of it occurring
- there is a risk to an unborn child
- a child or young person is exhibiting sexually-abusive behaviours
- there are indications that a child is being groomed. For information see: Department of Justice and Regulation – Grooming offence:

<http://www.justice.vic.gov.au/home/safer+communities/protecting+children+and+families/grooming+offence>

There are many indicators of child abuse and neglect. The presence of a single indicator, or even several indicators, does not prove that abuse or neglect has occurred. However, the repeated occurrence of an indicator, or the occurrence of several indicators together, should alert teachers to the possibility of child abuse and neglect.

Note: For full definitions for all of the types of child abuse and a comprehensive list of the indicators of harm, see: Appendix 2 in Protecting the safety and wellbeing of children and young people under Department resources below.
